Construction of the BART Warm Springs Extension Project will soon expand south of Fremont Central Park all the way to the new Warm Springs/South Fremont station. The newly named station site is at the corner of South Grimmer Blvd. and Warm Springs Blvd. Fremont businesses and residents will soon notice some of the preliminary work that is required as part of this project. Impacts to the public are expected to be minimal. The work will include, but is not limited to:

- Clearing and grubbing work will begin between Paseo Padre and the future Warm Springs/South Fremont Station.
- Potholing, Utility & Overhead Power Relocation: This work will dig test holes to determine the location of underground utilities between Paseo Padre and south of Blacow Road. Utilities that are in the path of future construction work will be relocated. This work will occur near Prune Court and Blacow Road. Power lines will be relocated at Prune Court and Warm Springs Court.
- Tree trimming and removal along the alignment from Fremont Station to the planned Warm Springs/South Fremont Station.
- Pile Driving work will begin in late July and will continue through the end of the year between the future Warm Springs /South Fremont Station and South Grimmer Blvd.
- Track Removal: The existing UPRR track, abandoned from Paseo Padre Parkway to south of South Grimmer Blvd., will be removed as a first step in clearing the project corridor for BART project construction.
