RICHMOND STATION BUS STOPS REOPEN SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17

Dear Customer

As part of the new parking structure construction, the underground utilities construction in the bus intermodal area have been completed and the full bus intermodal will be opened on Saturday, September 17 and bus stops returned to their previous locations, except AC Transit Line Stop #76 which will continue to have only one stop. AC Transit will continue to combine both directions of this Line Stop #76 at the same stop because of future construction plans.

We will notify you when the next phase of construction is going to begin.

Please see the map on the reverse of this bulletin for bus stop locations.

The Richmond Station parking structure is being constructed by the Richmond Community Redevelopment Agency as part of their transit village project at the Richmond BART Station. When completed in early 2012, the parking structure will provide 769 parking spaces to replace parking spaces on the east side of the BART Station where the second phase of the Richmond transit village will be constructed.

We thank you in advance for your cooperation, and ask that you observe local parking regulations in the neighborhoods surrounding the BART Station.
