

New BART Service Coming to Santa Clara County

Phase I of the BART/VTA Silicon Valley Extension (SVBX) is a 10-mile, two station, extension into Santa Clara County which begins at the Warm Springs/South Fremont station, proceeds through Milpitas, and ends in the Berryessa area of north San Jose. Expected to open in Summer 2018, here are some facts about the new SVBX stations and service. Please let us know what is important to you by coming to our outreach events (see reverse for list of events) or filling out a survey online at bart.gov/SVsurvey.

Travel Time

Estimated travel time between Milpitas to Warm Springs/South Fremont Station is 7 minutes and between Berryessa/ North San José to Warm Springs/South Fremont Station is 12 minutes.

Traffic Relief

By 2025, approximately 500,000 weekday automobile trips are projected between the East Bay and Santa Clara County. By shortening travel times and improving reliability, SVBX is expected to generate additional transit ridership and reduce overall traffic congestion. Projected daily BART ridership for the Project will reduce regional traffic congestion and greenhouse gas emissions by over 3,400 tons per year.

Transit Connectivity and Access

SVBX will feature bus transit centers to connect with VTA services, private shuttle and passenger drop-off/pick-up areas, parking facilities, and convenient bicycle and pedestrian connections and storage. The stations are fully accessible to pedestrians and bicyclists and includes bike lockers, elevators and escalators, Braille signs and a tactile sight path to aid riders with disabilities.

The project promotes accessing the stations by sustainable means, such as:

- Walking (1/2 mile walk for 30,000 local residents)
- Bicycling (less than 12-minute bike ride for 260,000 people)
- Private shuttle, local bus, bus rapid transit, light rail, and carpools
- Project is just 15 minutes via public transit or automobiles for more than 1,007,000 local residents

Proposed Fares

BART plans to extend its distance-based fare structure for the Santa Clara extension for both Milpitas and Berryessa/ North San José stations.

Proposed Service

As BART waits for its new Fleet of the Future, a temporary service plan will be implemented for Milpitas and Berryessa/ North San José stations. BART has developed multiple service options and is seeking your input on our proposed service plans.
