3. Approval of Minutes of April 24, 2014 Meeting

No opposition to Alan Smith's motion to approve minutes of the April 24, 2014 meeting, (second by Clarence Fischer). Motion carries unanimously.

4. Fleet of the Future Field Survey

After the presentation given by Aaron Weinstein, people were allowed to clarify, ask questions and/or share any concerns they had.

There was more discussion regarding the pole.

As the public address system had not been developed in time for the model, Larry Bunn feels that giving a rating on that portion of the Fleet of the Future questionnaire will be inaccurate.

Don Queen suggested removing the pole from the design at the middle doors of the car.

Peter Mendoza stated that he has heard multiple complaints regarding the placement of the pole.

Clarence Fischer shared a few ideas regarding the pole.

- no poles on all lead and end cars
- no poles at middle doors, poles on either end of car okay

- no poles at either end of car, pole in the middle okay

Alan Smith echoed Clarence Fischer's comments, saying that it might be better to leave the poles in at the middle door section of the car, and remove the poles at either end, as that the ends are where the wheelchair designation spaces are.

John Alex Lowell shared a suggestion regarding an alternative pole design.

Megan O'Brien stated that the information on the screens during the mockup were not very visible.

Brandon Young suggested that the screens have a sensor that would enable the screen to dim or brighten automatically.

Roland Wong suggested tilting the screens downward a little, so as to reduce glare.

He added that he has written a letter to BART, asking that they reconsider using ADA blue for the priority seats instead of lime green, and changing the other seats to a different color, perhaps gray.

Hale Zukas said that if the other seats were gray, it would be less distinct and not have enough contrast.

No opposition to Alan Smith's motion to recommend that BART use ADA blue in the priority seats; (second by Gerry Newell). Motion passes unanimously.

Aaron Weinstein discussed various alternatives about the poles and took informal surveys. There was general consensus that removing some of the poles from the cab cars could be a reasonable compromise.
